A A Sargent on the Situation

On the 5th inst an immense Union meeting took place at Nevada California at which A A Sargent late member of Congress made a speech of which the following is a synopsis

He adverted to the great experiences which the nation had had for five years past and thought the people ought to be schooled by them to noble aims. Centralization necessarily resulted from such a protracted struggle and the use of unwonted powers by the Government. In a good man's hands nothing was to be feared from this, but much if the power was in bad hands—and the people could not revert to first principles. He spoke of the shock given to the people's faith in Johnson by his conduct when inaugurated and of the anxiety to believe that exhibition an accident. No grudging faith was given to Johnson. He stated the issues before the country when Johnson became President, and how they had been met by him. The result of Johnson's policy was the violation of national faith to freedmen. It also robbed the North of its due weight in the Union, for if the rebels were admitted to Congress forthwith as Johnson insists, no amendment of the Constitution was possible to exclude from enumeration the freedmen to whom the South denied all political rights. By such a system he showed each white man in the South would have one third more political power in choice of Congressmen and President than each white man of the North. If it was claimed on the score of justice that the South be represented, justice required that the North be equally represented. He did not wonder that copperheads all through the North rejoiced in the reactionary policy of the President. The flag which Vallandigham for the first time for five years displayed from his window in his eyes again represented the slave power. He said

"In the sun of Presidential favor all these reptiles warm to life. They exult in the coarse utterances of Johnson against the Radicals, whom they hate as consistent promoters of the war against treason. They know that radicalism has embodied all the opposition they have ever met in their nefarious schemes. Radicalism opposed the extension of slavery in the Territories, taking its warrant from the fathers of the republic. Radicalism insisted on the right to coerce the revolted States back to obedience to the Union, it passed conscription and confiscation bills, and it abolished slavery as war measures. It held the reins of Government firmly in its grasp during the dark days of civil war, organized vast armies, created public credit, fought Copperheadism at home and rebels in the South, and utterly annihilated the political power of one and the military power of the other. While Radicalism was thus employed Conservatism was encouraging the South by promises of material aid organizing insurrections in the North sapping the foundations of the Government and corrupting so far as possible, the virtue of the people. Radicalism is the love of justice and liberty. It is a name that traitors have given to patriotism. It is public spirit uncorrupted by the blandishments of power, unawed by threats of public enemies. It breathes in the battle songs of the republic; its blood fertilizes the plains of the South, it has been starved in rebel prisons, murdered in the person of Lincoln, but it dies not with any man or number of men, but lives to-day as the safeguard of national life and honor, and the hope of the poor slaves who have looked to national faith as their only protection. Radicalism has been illustrious in the world's history. It nerved the arm of William of Orange and sustained the Netherlands in their unequal conflict with Spain. It saved the liberties of England by decapitating Charles I, and exiling James. It overthrew French tyranny and saved Italy. The blood of its martyrs has sanctified civilization and vitalized religions. It may be betrayed by false friends, it may be struck down upon the battle field, it may be bound to the stake, it may perish in Inquisitions, but let not the base exult for it rises to new life to fight the battle of freedom and lead the van of human progress. Radicalism engaged in this great conflict to preserve the national honor and liberty, and it will not retire from the fight until these are secured. It will not yield the fruits of a hardly earned victory to a treacherous foe?

He thought the temper of the South should be considered in determining whether the rebellious States were ready to be restored to political power. If they were still bitter enemies it was as unsafe to admit them to Congress as it was to admit alien enemies to participate in making our laws. The safety of the Republic was the supreme law. He dwelt upon the condition of things at the South and showed how unrepentant and disloyal were the masses of its people—the insecurity of Union men, etc. With so much antagonism and defiance to the Government it was absolutely necessary that these communities be for a time held within national control. Speaking of the attempt of Johnson to force the immediate recognition of these turbulent and sullen communities as States with all their political powers intact, he said

"Johnson's anxiety for Congress to recognize the rebel States as intact, as having been in a state of suspended animation and not dead, may be explained by the bearing it has on the legality of his own seat in the Presidential chair. In 2 Cranch 445, the Supreme Court of the United States construed the constitutional provision which allows citizens of one State to sue those of another in the Circuit Courts as excluding residents of the District of Columbia because they were not citizens of a State. A provision of the Constitution involving a similar construction requires that the electors in voting for President and Vice President, to so vote that one of the incumbents shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves, thereby requiring that those officers shall be residents of States under this provision. With the light afforded by the Supreme court, Johnson was not eligible to the Vice Presidency, when elected, and therefore not now to the Presidency, unless Tennessee was a State within the Union. How far he is capable of sacrificing great public interests to a selfish anxiety to strengthen his own position let Union men judge. I confess I would not have judged him so harshly in this, had he not assailed with coarse malignity the illustrious leader of the party which gave him the confidence he has abused."

There was a great issue back of all questions of representation. Shall national faith be kept with the freedmen? Johnson wished to leave these questions to the "moral sense" of the South. That moral sense did not turn the guns away from Sumter abolish Libby Prison or prevent shameful Salisbury. It approved the hanging of Union men and exiling their families of Fort Pillow massacres etc. The promise which Lincoln said must be kept must not be turned into a delusion and snare. Potent as a President may be the people are still more potent. They must strengthen the hands of Congress on which reposes at this crisis the safety and honor of the country

RADICALISM.—The Chicago Republican has the following sensible remarks on "Radicalism," and the senseless talk about it. Before the war, it says the great staple of Southern oratory and journalism was denunciation of Northern radicals. They even carried it so far as to try and put them down by private hostilities lynchings hangings and the like whenever a foolish radical was caught upon the sacred soil. Indeed these little arguments were not confined to the Southern States but in one memorable instance a loud voiced radical was assaulted with a bludgeon in the Senate Chamber and his head broken to convince him of his wickedness and to change the current of his ideas. However radicalism would not be lessened from its noise and its demonstrations by any of these powerful methods of reasoning but went on to choose for President a most pestilent radical who believed that the country could not continue half slave half free. Thereupon these Southern philosophers went to war all to destroy radicalism. As one of them has it most of the educated men of that section believe that the radical agitation in the North had rendered that course necessary on the part of the South unless she was prepared and willing to surrender tamely at the dictation of a sectional party rights and institutions guaranteed her by the Constitution

However the war did not succeed any better than the denunciation the lynchings and the bludgeonings previously employed. In fact it did not succeed quite so well for it achieved for radicalism what its wildest dreams had never imagined—the total abolition of slavery, and the establishment of an homogeneous democratic system of this vast republic. But this does not seem to open the eyes of the Southerners, or of their friends in the North. They still denounce the radicals as earnestly as ever. One would suppose that by this time and after all this experience, the suspicion might have found access to their minds that this radicalism might have in it something vital, something certain of success, something bound to possess the future, something that it would be well to study, to understand, to conciliate, rather than to abuse and to resist. But, like the Bourbons, the unhappy people have forgotten nothing and learned nothing, and probably to the end of time they will continue to declaim against the radicals, even when they are taking the course which most certainly insures the triumph of radical ideas

Montana News.

The following items are from the Montana Post of the 24th ult:

VIRGINIA CITY ITEMS.

An exceedingly rich ledge of auriferous quartz has been discovered, near what is known as German Bar Alder Gulch. Another named the Erebus has been found, at Hot Springs, in which gold can be discovered scattered through the quartz.

Pork, on foot, sells, in this part of the world at a very good price, and, as the item is not quoted in our market report, we give it for the benefit of our friends in the States. A specimen of the porcine tribe, which has six weeks' practice in grunting, sells at $30, one which has endured the entire absence of human sympathy for two and one-half months, fetches $60; and one that has suffered the ills that flesh is heir to till full grown, if of the feminine gender, is worth $100

Two men, J R Hawley, of Gold Hill, Nevada, and N. W Ferry, from Missouri, went out on a hunting expedition in the Yellowstone country in November last. Portions of their saddles, and a rifle with the brass mounting taken out were found under circumstances unmistakably pointing to the "noble red man" as the perpetrators of the murder. The bodies have not yet been found. It is supposed that they were killed about the 1st of December—the day on which they were last seen.

M G F Cope, who runs a 15 stamp steam custom mill, in Hot Spring District, belonging to the firm of Raglan Cope & Napton brought into our office a mass of retorted gold, weighing $2,767, being the product of one week's crushing of quartz from the Pony lode. This is the largest lump of mill gold we have seen in this Territory. The mill is distant from this city about thirty miles, by the trail, and lies nearly due north of us. Besides the Pony lode, there has been quartz crushed out of the veins mentioned below, the figures indicating the yield per ton, by ordinary mill process: Cotopaxi, $40; Gold Hill, $50; Esop $40, Oro Fino, $30; Sebastopol, $25; Buena Vista, $35; Poco Tiempo, $35; Cleopatra $30, Mark Antony, 35; Muy Rica, $25, Megatherium, $30; Brooklyn, $40. This is very encouraging, considering that none of these lodes are sunk upon to any great depth; many of the returns are from mere surface quartz.

HELENA ITEMS.

A lot, twenty-five feet front, on Main street, below Waterbury and Perkins, this week, sold for $1,200

On the trail from Uncle Johnny's Gulch to Diamond City, an unfortunate man, whose name is unknown, was found frozen to death a few days since

There are in Helena Hospital ten patients, every one of them frozen in some part of the body or limbs. A few operations have been performed, but the poor fellows will be fortunate if they are not crippled for life

Two men, Michael McDonnel and Thomas Kavli..., engaged in drifting in Confederate Gulch, at a depth of forty feet, and at a distance of seventeen feet from the entrance, lost their lives by the caving of their work. Only after twenty four hours of ceaseless and energetic labor, were their lifeless bodies recovered.

On Sunday, February 18th, the body of a man was brought into town and recognized as Phillip Farley, of Silver Creek. The nose, one cheek and an ear were eaten off by birds and mice, which greatly disfigured the body, and it was difficult for his friends to recognize him. Large holes were also made in his body, it is supposed, by mice.

We clip the following from the Montana Radiator of the 24th inst.

DRY GULCH MINES.

Jack McClaren, who owns a claim in Dry Gulch, informs us that miners in his locality, where they can work, are doing very well. The ditch having broken, however, has driven them out for the present. Jack says they were down sixty-four feet when the water came in, and had not not struck the "bed stone," though "pay grit" was found all the way down. And high as seventy five cents to the pan was procured at one point.

THE ROADS CROPPING OUT

The Virginia stage started out on wheels on Wednesday morning for the first time since the storm of last month. We infer from this fact that the ground must be sticking up through the road on some portions of the route

TWO MEN KILLED AT DIAMOND CITY.

On Saturday, the 10th inst, a sad accident occurred at this place, resulting in the death of two worthy miners, William McDonald and Thomas Karhion. While they were running a drift, some eighty feet from the shaft on claim No. 5, in Confederate Gulch, three sets of timbers gave way, and it is presumed they were instantly killed. The caving of the drift was discovered about half an hour after its occurrence, by Mr McDonald, a brother of one of the deceased; and, the alarm being given, as many of our citizens as could possibly work promptly came forward to assist in extricating the buried men, and labored continually until Monday morning about daylight, when the unfortunate men were exhumed. The deceased were from Michigan Bluffs, California. The funeral took place on Monday evening.

PROMISES TO BEHAVE.—Pollard, of the Richmond Examiner, on receiving permission to resume the publication of his paper, was compelled by the President to give the following written pledge: "If the publication of the Examiner shall be permitted, I solemnly pledge my honor that it shall be devoted to the support of the Union, the Constitution and the laws, and that the journal will heartily support the President's policy."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

MONDAY MORNING MARCH 26 1866

The County Convention— Support the Party

The regular Union ticket for Multnomah county is now in the field for the ensuing election In the Convention of Saturday there was the utmost harmony, and the business of the day was transacted expeditiously and in a becoming manner All parties concede that the ticket, generally is a good one The several candidates for the Legislature are men whose fidelity to the country and to the party is unquestioned and whose abilities will compare favorably with those of any delegation which Multnomah county has heretofore sent to the State Capital The candidates, for the county offices are men who have become well and favorably known in their administration of the county's affairs during the past two years. They are persons of known capacity, and from the official reputation they have established, it would not be too much to predict their triumphant election, even were the Union vote of Multnomah county far smaller than it actually is We are conscious that it will be said that the ticket could have been bettered in some respects, but as it is difficult, nay impossible, to bring forward a set of candidates with whom everybody would be perfectly satisfied, we conclude that the Convention did quite as well in making the nominations as could be looked for by the Unionists of the county.

Our county Convention has been held; therefore, all who desire to preserve the party organization, and to prevent the triumph of the Copperheads, have but one course to pursue. That there has been some dissatisfaction, we are well aware; but that it will culminate in opposition to the Union ticket among those who ought to be relied on as its friends, we do not desire to believe. If no other consideration will induce harmony and energetic co-operation among Union men, a true apprehension of the pressing emergency from which the politics of the State and country have not yet been relieved, ought to afford a sufficient incentive to all to work harmoniously together. If we unite in our efforts, we cannot fail either in this county or the State; if we do not unite, we may lose both. It would be the height of folly to permit minor or personal differences to come between those who have a perfect community of interest in the matter of securing the triumph of the party. On the result of the pending election hangs the choice not only of State officers, but of a member in either branch of Congress. The events of the past four months have shown us how necessary it is to have men in Congress who are opposed to the rebel Democracy of the North and South, and who cannot be purchased or intimidated. We have it in our power to elect men of this stamp, and we shall richly deserve defeat and the wretched consequences of the treachery and misrule which will follow the election of our opponents, if we permit rivalries and jealousies among ourselves to snatch our victory from us.

We hope and believe that the friends of the party will unite in the common endeavor not only to elect our ticket in the county, but to make the Union majority as large as possible. There are a few counties which we can hardly hope to carry (though we believe no one will give a Copperhead majority of more than one hundred,) but we must see to it that we do not fail in any part of the State where harmonious action and unremitting effort on our part will insure success. It is of the utmost consequence that the Unionists of Multnomah county adhere to each other and to the party, not only on account of the result here, but for the sake of the influence which such a course will exert in other parts of the State. Disorganization here will tend to produce a like result elsewhere. But we do not believe that we need to make any appeal to our Union voters to remind them of their duty. Men of judgment must see that there is only one thing for them to do. We say to all our friends; Stand together, and work unitedly for the success of the party.

THE DEMOCRACY RAMPANT.—The Democracy of Portland had a rally on Saturday night Posters were placed all over town in the morning, calling upon the faithful to meet at 7 o'clock P. M. A faithful few did meet at that hour, but the crowd which had been expected, did not crowd much. Democracy never wants for an expedient and Democracy did not fail to adopt one. At about half past eight, the faithful many being still absent, coolly encamped around saloon stoves and guzzling holes, the faithful few sent out a delegation into the highways and byways to force in the faithful but temporarily careless many. "Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast," saith the poet, and the faithful few, acting upon the hint, sent with the delegation a squeaking fife and a sounding drum. Headed by this imposing and attractive anything composed, the delegation took its winding way through those parts of town where sturdy democratic loafers most do congregate, and most industriously made "night hideous" for an hour, at the end of which time the procession took up the line of march for the general rendezvous. The procession, an immense one considering the weather, was exactly forty-five strong in passing a given point, but several stragglers who belonged to it, but were evidently very much fatigued, were much longer than that in getting by each of several points where strengthening fluids are advertised. At the point where our observations were taken, the procession appeared, headed by the fifer and drummer, followed by an adventurous dozen of seedy, vagabondish looking but faithful and sturdy democrats, and tailed off by the only democratic nigger in town and three chinamen. Thus marched they boldly to the rescue. Whether the country was rescued, and if so, how much, nobody seems to know, but we do know that the rabble having "vexed with howls the drowsy ear of night," made a final masterly retreat to their strongholds—the whiskey mills.

If he (the President) shall deliberately resolve to forsake them and to look for support to those whom he used to denounce as the enemies of the Republic, a loyal people will save themselves and their country in spite of his defection —Oregonian.

What will you do about it? Are you going out of the Union?—Idaho World

Not much; and we intend to protest against having the Union merged in the Southern Confederacy, or annexed to it for judicial, legislative or administrative purposes. The Union was saved by Union men and Union men must administer the Government until rebels purge themselves of treason and become fitted to assist

DEMOCRATIC POLICY —Democratic newspapers and stump orators have almost as much to say about Democratic policies as about Democratic principles We will give a bran new hat to the first man of them who will furnish the public with an intelligible statement of what the present Democratic policy is. If it has got any—save an infernally disgraceful purpose to shield traitors from just punishment—it has failed to come to light

OUT IN THE COLD.—Yaquina precinct of Benton county was not represented in the Copperhead County Convention of last Thursday, because not a Copperhead could be found belonging to that precinct. Yaquina, like Ireland, has no snakes in it.

OUR CONGRESSMAN A PRINTER —The Fulton Telegraph says that Hon J H D Henderson, Member of Congress from Oregon, is a typo, and learned the business under the late Calvin Gunn at Jefferson City, Missouri

Bingham of Ohio, replied that the gentleman was mistaken as to the nature of the proposition He had hoped that it might be brought up next week but it would not be right to vote on it so soon Raymond remarked that he had supposed the object of the measure was to provide for the admission of members from Tennessee on this floor There were some errors in the publication of the vote on the passage of the bill Hutchinson appears as voting aye He was not present and did not vote. Spinner's Letter on Finances.

CHICAGO, March 23 —An item was telegraphed which says that Treasurer Spinner had published a letter maintaining the correctness of Controller Clark's statement The fact is precisely the reverse Treasurer Spinner's letter explains that the books in his office are the only authority on the treasury finances, and that the Controller does not and cannot know from his own books the exact current condition of accounts with national banks He says the deposits in national banks are returned weekly as certificates and reports are received balancing as cash in the treasury. The discrepancy between the bank report and the treasury statement arises from the fact that the banks are charged weekly with the amounts deposited with them by revenue officers and others and are corrected daily with checks drawn on them, hence occurs that the amount due the department, and the books of the banks will differ materially from the balance; according to the books of the department For instance, the treasury may draw to-day on different deposits The banks should of course be accredited with the amount of checks drawn upon them while they cannot charge the Government until the checks are presented which may not happen for days or weeks after

Bill to Quiet California Land Titles.

CHICAGO, March 23d —The bill to quiet land titles in the State of California, was introduced in the Senate on the 19th by Mr Conness, read twice and referred to the committee on Public Lands. This bill has been in part but not wholly approved by the General Land Office, and Conness hopes to secure its passage without material amendment It enacts that the claim and location and sales of lands made by the State of California prior to the passage of this act, under the several acts of the Legislature of said States, of the 500 hundred thousand acres of land granted by Congress for the purpose of internal improvements, and of the 16th and 36th sections of land granted in lieu thereof, donated for the purpose of education, and of the lands denominated swamp and overflowed lands, granted for the erection of public buildings, and of lands granted for Scovie ry purposes are hereby confirmed; provided, that when any person shall have settled upon any legal subdivision of such lands, not exceeding 160 acres and become entitled to a pre-emption, the same shall be subject to the laws of the United States for the sale of public lands, and provides further, that all locations shall whenever necessary, be made to conform to the public surveys of the United States.

State Items.

The Corvallis Gazette of the 24th announces the consummation of the arrangement by which W B. Carter becomes joint proprietor and associate editor of that paper. The Gazette under its new management presents a very decidedly improved appearance and, judging from the number before us, will soon take rank among the most useful of the Union papers in the State.

New quartz mines have been discovered on Althouse Creek, Josephine county.

Sailors Diggings, once one of the most flourishing towns of Southern Oregon, has now but about seventy inhabitants. The China population is, however, quite numerous.

The Corvallis Gazette says that several milch cows have lately been poisoned in that city, supposed to have been caused by eating wild parsnip

Rev. B. F. Burch has been appointed agent of Corvallis College. The institution is to be incorporated under the laws of the State. The Trustees are Messrs, R. C. Martin, B R Biddle, A Holder, A. Roberts and —— Perkins. Rev. W. A. Finley, President. The North Corvallis district school is for the present to be taught in the primary department of the college.

Mr. J. N Donnell, just down from Auburn, gives it as his opinion that the coming summer will develop in that district, quartz mines as rich as any other now known,

It is no wonder the President should make a violent speech —Statesman

Under the peculiar inspiration which had taken possession of him, perhaps it is no wonder But will the Statesman do its readers the favor of printing that celebrated speech entire? Come, let them have it. You know that according to your obsequious manner of thinking, every one of the President's words is authoritative and oracular, and cannot by any possibility be anything else than the emanation of pure wisdom Therefore why not print his speech? You print whole columns each week in the endeavor to explain his "reconstruction policy " publish that famous speech in which he explains it for himself

DEFINITION OF "DEMOCRAT "—Webster's Unabridged gives the following definition of the word "democrat "

One who adheres to a government by the people, or favors the right of suffrage to all classes of men.

The Democracy at the Dalles have made a later and better definition

"One who has been within a year a secessionist and rebel and all the time called a rebel

Webster is played out The Democracy have no further confidence in him The Courier has discarded him as authority even in orthography

FEARFUL SOULS —The Herald of Friday expressed another column of fear that white men will not be able to keep themselves above the level of negroes and Chinamen Well, we suppose it will be difficult for some men The difference is so little now, that they won't have to descend very far The Democracy is in danger and we are not surprised at their fears in this respect

RECORD OF WEST POINT —The total number of the graduates of West Point who were in the regular army at the commencement of the war were 820 Of this number 197 resigned and joined the South, leaving 621 loyal graduates who remained in arms for the Union of which number no less than 138, or nearly as many as those who resigned, were natives of the Southern States

TRIAL OF JEFF DAVIS —The editor of the Louisville Journal who has lately returned from a visit to Washington publishes the following significant paragraph

No matter, dear reader what you see in the papers Jeff Davis won't have a military trial and he won't be convicted And if he were convicted he would be pardoned Though no card player, we speak by the card

QUITE THE REVERSE —Some very thoughtless people are greatly rejoiced at the idea that the Democracy in their indorsement of President Johnson's veto and quasi approval of his reconstruction policy have made a very decided step toward Unionism The Democrats are doing it because they think Johnson has made a very decided step toward them and their disunion policies

Whatever may be said in public, the Democratic test of genuine fealty to the party, is really the one by which Joe Teal's was tried The question is, "Has he been all the time a secessionist and rebel?" If so, his Democracy is sound

Gone to Insanity.—A man who is partially if not wholly insane, left this city by the steamer Senator yesterday with his two children for Oregon City. Failing the boat a short distance above town, but was brought back by Sheriff Burns, of Clackamas county in the afternoon by the same steamer, and lodged in jail to await an examination this morning before Justice Hoffman. The particulars, as far as we are able to ascertain them, are as follows: The man has been living in the Third ward of this city with his family for some time past and has for all the shown signs of mental aberration. He seems to have a dread of being killed, and has accused his wife, an estimable lady—of infidelity and badly treated her when temporarily demented. For weeks before he left his house he would not retire at night without taking a bowie knife and keen edged axe to bed with him, and piling up wood from the foot posts of the bed against the door, as he stated for the purpose of keeping out intruders going out, or intruders from molesting him. [illegible] he has acted harshly towards his wife [illegible] in the morning, charging her with having moved the wood barricade, as he knew exactly how each piece lay the night before. The wife finally could stand it no longer, which resulted in a separation. [illegible] taking up board and lodgings at one of our hotels where he remained until he felt impressed with the idea [illegible] were still following him for the purpose of killing him, and then he took a room on Yamhill street. While rooming at the latter place, one night he saw the Police running through the streets of the city half clad, with a hatchet in his hand, to whom he said two men had come to his room to kill him. After this he again took lodgings at another hotel, where he remained until Friday last. On Saturday he imagined the police were hunting him and he crossed the river and was out all night. Yesterday morning he visited his wife, and requested her to let him have the two children to bring down town, on some pretext, when she acceded to his request and he escaped, as above stated. [illegible] a suspicion that something was wrong and the matter [illegible] to the notice of the officers they set about [illegible] out, and learned sufficient to induce the belief that he had gone in the direction of Oregon City. Sheriff Burns was notified by telegraph, and succeeded in [illegible] the man there with the two children [illegible] returned them to this city. We have [illegible] as the parties are well known in this [illegible] the unfortunate person being a good mechanic [illegible] a worthy husband and father—and we hope he may only be temporarily insane, and easily cured [illegible] at the asylum for a short time.

[illegible] The steamship Sierra Nevada arrived [illegible] and the bark Jane A. Falkinburg [illegible] both full freighted from San Francisco. [illegible] are reported as occurring in San [illegible] that have been enjoyed for two years past, [illegible] the rush of shipping to Oregon, only [illegible] of much greater magnitude. Drays [illegible] to be standing in the streets leading to the [illegible] at a time, the line often reaching from [illegible] a half, in extent. The packets laid on [illegible] per ton, and are quickly filled up, not [illegible] Pacific and Montana were taking. The cargo of the Sierra Nevada on [illegible] at $7 per ton, we understand. [illegible] was offered the Montana, when the [illegible] chartered the bark Ethan Allen, [illegible] at San Francisco after a passage [illegible] to the Sandwich Islands via the [illegible] Ethan Allen will quite probably ar[rive] [illegible] unless detained at the bar, as she [illegible] She was formerly in the United [States] [illegible] blockade service, and has captured [illegible] runners. She will load hence for [illegible] by McCraken, Merrill & Co., we are informed [illegible] Merritt, long and favorably known [illegible] Packet Line, has been disposed of by [illegible] and we see has started in the San [illegible] Packet Line, sailing for the Islands [illegible] under command of Capt. Manson, with a [illegible] Her return cargo, it is said, will [illegible] port, consigned to Allen & Lewis [illegible] commander, Capt. Jas. Wil[liams] [illegible] of the new ships of the Anchor [Line] [illegible] Alfred Crosby is now due from [illegible] are looking rather anxiously for [illegible] goods for which there is at present [illegible] The Steamer Webfoot will possibly be in [illegible] for land soon ... The Montana [illegible] the bar at the mouth of the [illegible] bound down but it is possible [illegible] as the day was heavy.

[illegible]—The shameful condition of Front street, [illegible] street, is better known to the team[sters] [illegible] of the city, than any other part of our [illegible] of the fact that the majority of these [illegible] that way from five to twenty times [illegible] There are licensed in this city, at present, one [illegible] drays, wagons and trucks. The [illegible] last year amounted to nearly [illegible] and wear and tear of teams, and [illegible] and teamsters are burdened con[illegible] of gross injustice to them that [illegible] not long ago take steps to remedy [illegible] so much. The vessels and steamships [illegible] below Pine street, and [illegible] as well as most of that exported, [illegible] portion of Front street. An [illegible] of freight shows an average, [illegible] by drays and trucks in [illegible] is certain that every time a horse [illegible] runs the risk of crippling [illegible] The condition of the street is so very [illegible] and to save the poor an[imals] [illegible] of the people, we should like [illegible] and the wharf thrown open [illegible] such time as the city can let the contract [illegible] completed.

[illegible] were placed in type the draymen of the [illegible] hurriedly patched the [illegible] to allow them to continue their busi[ness] [illegible] such great risks. It is questionable policy [illegible] and then compel them to make their own.

[illegible] the Point.—A preacher who will stick [illegible] make a direct application of Gospel prin[ciples] [illegible] and practices of his congregation, [illegible] of commendation. Such a preacher has [illegible] and the Gazette notices a dis[course] [illegible] by him from the text, "Man [illegible] and Mammon," in which he instanced [illegible] who, in collecting his monthly rents, [illegible] who, with faint heart and trembling [illegible] dollar and a half, saying it was all she [illegible] had saved it for him instead of buying [illegible] for her children, of which she had not a [illegible] and that she would get the balance as soon as [illegible] said the [illegible] who is a wealthy [illegible] Christian, and is now present in [illegible] took the dollar and a half, and notified [illegible] to leave his [illegible] for fear she [illegible] to pay her rent. The eyes of some, at [illegible] the man of [illegible] and were not [illegible]

[illegible]—Mr. A. Myers, agent of the Leffel [illegible] water wheel, has returned from San Fran[cisco] [illegible] with him a number of wheels calculated [illegible] the California market, to supply all he has on hand. The following extract, from a letter dated Walla Walla, March 10th, written by Mr. Wm. Oberholtzer, who has one of the wheels in use, of which we spoke some time since, is voluntary evidence in favor of the patent. We quote: "Friend M[yers], I am happy to hear that you are [illegible] the price of your wheels. But I will say this much: were I going to build twenty-five mills, I would put your wheel in all of them, at the old price, rather than any other. Your wheel still continues [illegible] and we have ample power for [illegible] and the [illegible] machinery."

[illegible] Gold Discovery.—Great excitement is [illegible] at our sister city Vancouver, [illegible] on account of the discovery of [illegible] gold bearing rock, fifty feet in [illegible] miles of the town. The readers of [illegible] will recollect that we briefly alluded to the [illegible] of the excitement a few days since. If gold [illegible] as alleged, it must redound greatly [illegible] of the entire region west of the Cascade [illegible] especially.

[illegible]—[illegible] to be two parties at Colville [illegible] the sanguine and the anti-san[guine]. The sanguine portion believe in nothing else, [illegible] think there are other mines east of [illegible] There is no doubt in our mind but that [illegible] will prove rich, but its extent is at present [illegible]

[illegible] Estate Sale.—This day, [illegible] at 10 o'clock [illegible] the premises of Mr. E. P. Wright, between [illegible] on Second, Mr. Kilbourn [illegible] large stock of household goods, a library [illegible] which valuable real estate, on the same street [illegible] and Main, will be sold. See advertise[ment].

[illegible] Court.—J. J. Hoffman, J., March 24th, [illegible] Morgan, arraigned on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, was discharged ..... Gus Howard, [illegible] himself for a fight, disclosed deadly weapons [illegible] for carrying which he was sent to jail for [illegible] days ..... Wm. [illegible] Wm. Thompson and Moses [illegible] were arrested yesterday for drunkenness.

[illegible] Favors.—McCormick, of the Franklin Book Store, has placed us under obligations for a roll of valuable Eastern periodicals, political and illustrated papers, received [illegible] Sierra Nevada last Saturday. The Atlantic [illegible] March Day Book, Tribune, Times, Herald, etc., etc., may be procured at the Franklin Book Store to-day by all who desire the latest prints.

[illegible]—The Commanding Officer at Fort Stevens [illegible] by the vessel now in this port five 8 inch rifled Parrott guns, and a large amount of shot and shell. The guns and guns will be transferred to lighters at Astoria, as it would not be considered safe for a vessel to land at the Fort to discharge such heavy freight at this time of the year.

[illegible] Locomotive.—The bark Jane A. Falkenburg, [illegible] the present trip a portion of the locomotive S. G. Reed, built for the Oregon Steam Navigation Company. For safety the locomotive was shipped by two vessels, the remainder coming by the barkentine W. H. [illegible]

The New M. E. Church.—The congregation of the Methodist Episcopal Church of this city have about completed their plan for a new edifice on the south-east corner of Taylor and Third streets. Multnomah Union County Convention

Pursuant to notice the Union County Convention met at the Court House in the city of Portland, Multnomah County, on Saturday, March 24th, 1866, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Thomas Frazar, Esq., Chairman of the County Committee called the meeting to order. The published notice of a call for the Union County Convention of said county was read.

On motion Hans Hanson, Charles Fechheimer, Walter Moffitt, C. Beal and Fletcher Royal were appointed a Committee on Credentials, who reported the following named persons entitled to seats in the Convention:

South Portland—C. W. Burrage, B. O. Harbaugh, A. M. Loryea, proxy; J. P. O. Lownsdale, F. Harbaugh, C. W. Phillips, F. Bennett, J. H. Mitchell, A. Hurgren (J. P. O. Lownsdale proxy), Chas. Fechheimer, A. B. Zieber, L. S. Silver (F. Bennett proxy), C. Beal, M. Klin, C. P. Ferry (H. C. Coulson proxy), A. Rosenheim, Walter Moffitt, O. T. Myers, J. D. Tacholbury, Jas. McHenry, D. Imsty, F. A. Clark, R. S. Snow.

North Portland—H. C. Coulson, Wm. Young, John O'Neil, John Wagner, Wm. Dellinger, (Wm. Young proxy), O. S. Mills, Wm. Cornell, Thos. Stephens, (J. J. Hoffman proxy), J. N. Dolph, L. Goodman, J. J. Hoffman, R. B. Knapp, John Nation, A. C. Breisford, W. O. Brown, W. F. Cooper.

East Portland—Hans Hanson, E. Long, Jas. Royal.

Powell's Valley—G. Kelly, T. K. Williams.

Sandy—F. O. [illegible], C. P. Royal.

St. Johns—W. Hogan.

Sauvies Island—[illegible] R. Jewett.

On motion the temporary officers of the Convention were unanimously declared permanent officers of the meeting.

H. C. Coulson, E. Long and R. S. Jewett appointed committee on resolutions reported the following resolutions which were adopted:—

Resolved, That the history of the Union party during the past five years inspires us with a firm confidence and brilliant hope as to the future, and we confidently believe that in spite of all machinations of avowed enemies or treacherous friends our Republic will, through the continued wisdom of its administration which we pledge a hearty support, emerge from the thraldom which domestic traitors have plunged it, purified and redeemed and stronger and a [illegible] than ever before.

Resolved, That we recognize with deep gratitude the changes that have taken place in the situation of our country within the past year and pledge our co-operation with all good and loyal men, in the great work of restoring peace, protection and harmony throughout the land.

Resolved, That we favor the admission to Congress of Senators and Representatives from the States lately in revolt, and the full restoration of all civil and political rights at the earliest possible period, which in the judgment of Congress may be consistent with the safety of the Union and the full protection of all its inhabitants.

Resolved, That we hold loyalty to the United States an indispensable qualification of any person qualified to a seat as Senator or Representative in the National Congress, and we further hold that no person can be deemed duly elected and qualified whose right to that high position is based upon the votes of avowed [illegible] or traitors.

Resolved, That on one subject we entertain the same opinion as does the so-called Democratic party which is that they never can succeed in resuscitating and bringing into respectable notice and power that party unless by a breach or breaking up of the Union party, of which we have no fears, and as we are in favor of that party "sleeping the sleep that knows no waking," we will to the utmost of our power, sustain as a unit as we did during the war the Union party which by blood and treasure saved the nation and regenerated the Republic.

Resolved, That every attempt at disintegration of the Union organization by members of our party is a most fearful violation of the duty of a true Union man, and while all such attempts may cause rejoicing in the camps of our political enemies, they shall be witnessed by us with feelings of sorrow, and those who participate in such movements, we consider unworthy our confidence or support.

Resolved, That treason should be made odious and to make it such, some at least of the most notorious rebel leaders, including Jeff Davis, should be brought to a speedy trial, and if found guilty, condemned and executed according to the laws of the United States.

Resolved, That it is our duty and high privilege to remember with honor and gratitude the many heroes, still surviving, who constituted the rank and file of the army and navy in the late conflict for national existence; to venerate the memories and hallow the recollections of the myriad dead who have laid down their lives upon the altar of their country, and to provide speedily and liberally for their widows and orphans.

J. H. Mitchell, C. W. Burrage and John Nation, Committee appointed on order of business, reported the following:

1. Election of Delegates to the State Convention. 2. Nomination of State Senators. 3. Nomination of Representatives to Legislature. 4. Nomination of Sheriff. 5. Nomination of Clerk. 6. Nomination of County Judge. 7. Nomination of Assessor. 8. Nomination of Treasurer. 9. Nomination of County Commissioners. 10. Nomination of Surveyor. 11. Nomination of Superintendent of Schools. 12. Nomination of Coroner. Which was adopted.

On motion a ballot for Delegates to the State Convention was had, resulting in the election of the following named persons: J. P. O. Lownsdale, S. E. Barr, G. T. Myers, J. J. Hoffman, W. O. Bruen, Wm. Young, W. W. Upton, R. B. Knapp, J. N. Dolph, F. Harbaugh, A. M. Loryea, J. M. Smith, and Chas. Fechheimer.

The following resolution was offered by R. S. Jewett:

Resolved, That the Delegates appointed by this Convention to the Union State Convention, to be holden at Corvallis, on the 29th day of March be, and they are hereby instructed to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of the Hon. Wilson Bowlby, of Washington county, as candidate for Representative to Congress on the Union ticket at the coming June election.

Upon motion the following substitute was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the delegation to the State Convention go unpledged as to any and all candidates, but strictly pledged to the support of the principles and the best interests of the great Union party of this State.

In accordance with order of business above stated, the following nominations were then made:

State Senators—J. N. Dolph and David Powell.

Representatives—W. W. Upton, John B. White, A. Rosenheim and J. P. Garlick.

Sheriff—Jacob Stitzel.

County Clerk—H. C. Coulson.

Judge—P. A. Marquam.

Assessor—John Denn.

Treasurer—D. W. Williams.

County Commissioners—J. P. O. Lownsdale and Hans Hanson.

Surveyor—C. W. Burrage.

Superintendent of Schools—Geo. H. Atkinson.

Coroner—Dr. [illegible]

On motion of J. H. Mitchell, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Convention emphatically condemns the action of a few persons in this county who claim to be Union men, who took part in some of the proceedings of the precinct meetings in this city on the 20th inst., and then with [illegible] from such meetings, and who have since been endeavoring to create dissatisfaction by holding meetings and distributing through the State false and irresponsible circulars tending to the division of our party.

Resolved, That we will give our earnest efforts to secure the election of the ticket placed in nomination by this Convention; and we earnestly entreat all Union men to co-operate with us, forgetting all differences of opinion that may have arisen in the recent race for men; and we shall recognize all [illegible] who do not faithfully labor to secure such result as enemies of the Union party, and of the regular Union organization.

Resolved, That all accusations against this Convention or its members, through surreptitious circulars, charging that we or any of us were elected by the votes of copperheads, are no less base in intention than they are false in fact, and all such attempts, whether made by men in high places or by lesser lights, meet our unqualified condemnation.

The following named persons were elected County Committee for the ensuing two years: J. J. Hoffman and Jas. Howell.

On motion the delegates residing in their respective precincts were instructed to nominate their precinct officers.

On motion, adjourned. J. N. DOLPH, Chairman.

GEORGE T. MYERS, J. P. O. LOWNSDALE, Secretaries.

The following precinct officers were nominated, to-wit: South Portland—For Justice of the Peace, L. M. Parrish; for Constable, A. B. Brannan. Central Portland Precinct—For Justice of the Peace, H. Kline; for Constable, Clancy Dall. North Portland—For Justice of the Peace, John McBride.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants. Letter from Captain Waddell, of the Pirate Shenandoah

[From the Mobile News]

A gentleman of this city has received a letter from Captain Waddell formerly in command of the cruiser Shenandoah dated December 27th Waterloo near Liverpool, from which we are per mitted to make such extracts as may be of inter est to the general public The Captain appears to feel bitter disappointment over the result of the late war. He says that the South has proved false to their cause, he has very little respect for her, he does not believe she was in earnest, she will never again take the field, etc Regarding himself he says

"I am now in exile, but far from being a ruined man. I won't go to sea any more if I can help it The feeling shown toward me through the restriction placed upon my wife is decided It is just the feeling I like, though the tyranny to her is humiliating to the nature of man. I have written her to release her bondsmen and inform the Government that she owes her allegiance to her husband As my case now stands, I do not think the bond is worth the paper it is written on In a Court of law I know it would fail You have seen Welles' report I suppose He does me justice when he writes that I 'ceased my depredations when I heard Davis was a prisoner.' He willfully lies when he writes that I 'continued cruising against unarmed whale ships when I knew that the armies of the South had surrendered.' The facts are these After reaching Behring's Sea I captured the ship William Thompson and brig Susan Abigail; both had left San Francisco in April last. These captures were made about the 23d of June, and from each I received San Francisco papers. These papers professed to have the correspondence between Generals Lee and Grant concerning the surrender of Lee's army. They also stated that Davis and Cabinet were in Danville, to which the Confederate Government had been removed, and that Davis had, issued a proclamation informing the Southern people that the war would be carried on with renewed vigor. I was made possessor of as late news by these two captures as any the whalers had, and I continued my work until it was completed in the Arctic Ocean, on the 28th of June, when I had succeeded in destroying or dispersing the New England whaling fleet, I left the Arctic on the 29th of June, and shipped from some of the whalers eight men on that very day—men of intelligence, all trained soldiers. It is not to be believed that those men would have taken service in the Shenandoah if they believed the war was ended. After leaving Behring's Sea I fell in with no vessel until I communicated with the British bark Barracouta, from San Francisco August 2d, fourteen days, bound for Liverpool She informed me of the capture of Davis and a part of his Cabinet; also, of the surrender of Generals Johnston's, Smith's and Magruder's armies. The Barracouta furnished that news the first time I heard it, and I instantly ceased to cruise, and steered for Cape Horn. Before communicating with the Barracouta I intended to look into the Gulf of Lower California, and then to wait the arrival of a California steamer bound for P— The Barracouta's news surprised us, and among some of the officers I witnessed a terror which mortified me. I was implored to take the vessel to Australia; that to try and reach a European port would be fatal to all concerned; petitions were signed by three-fourths of the officers, asking to be taken to Cape Town, arguing and picturing the horrors of capture, and all that sort of stuff. I called the officers and crew to the quarterdeck and said calmly to them: 'I intend taking this ship to Liverpool. I know there is risk to be run; but that has been our associate all the time. We will be sought after in the Pacific and not in the Atlantic.' They supported my views, and then followed a letter from the crew—signed by 71 out of 110 saying they and confided in me, and were willing, nay, desired to go with me where I thought best to take the vessel. I had, of course, a very anxious time, painfully anxious, because the officers set a bad example to the crew. Their conduct was nothing less than mutiny. I was very decided with some of them; I had to tell one of them I would be Captain or die on the deck, and the vessel should go to no other port than Liverpool. So ended my troubles with complaints and supplications from the officers. The men behaved nobly and stood firmly to their [illegible]. When the ship was one hundred miles from the Azores, a suspicious looking vessel was seen [illegible], and apparently lying to, waiting for us to come up with her. It was sunset, the wind was light, and my [illegible] being aroused I [illegible] my course [illegible] until darkness closed upon us, and then I wore ship and stood southwest till steam could be gotten up, for I had not even banked fires since parting with the Barracouta. It took twelve hours to get up steam; when it was ready I furled sails, steered due east sixteen miles, and hauled on my course, steaming for one hundred miles. I believe she was a Yankee cruiser. She was only six miles off when night came on, but I evaded her successfully. The Shenandoah, under sail, is a sixteen knot [illegible] under steam nine knots; a fine sea craft. She ran from the [illegible] to Liverpool in one hundred and thirty [illegible] from the line on the Pacific side to the Cape in twenty-six days; from the Cape to the line on the Atlantic in [illegible] days, and from the line to Liverpool in twenty-four days. Two of my crew died from disease when near Liverpool; otherwise nothing [illegible] our cruise. No [illegible] during the cruise. So ends my naval [illegible], and I am [illegible] a "pirate." I [illegible] New England [illegible] do not regret it I cannot be condemned by any honest, thinking man. I surrendered my vessel to the English Government, and all are unconditionally released. My [illegible] among some of the officers, but they now inwardly regret their action in the Cape Town affair."

LATE EASTERN DISPATCHES.—We obtain from the California the following details of news by the Overland Telegraph, which through mistake or [illegible] to [illegible] here by the State [illegible] lines:

WASHINGTON, March 19th.—Senator Stewart's [illegible] and suffrage resolutions continue to create a talk. Henry S. Foote, Mr. Stewart's father-in-law, is here urging their passage. The resolutions are [illegible] to have been written by Foote, or he was in some sense, responsible for their introduction.

A Senatorial caucus on the Constitutional [illegible] on Saturday, considered the various [illegible] for making the [illegible] of voters the basis of [illegible]; no other plan being considered possible to succeed.

The following telegram, which appears among the official records here, shows that up to the latter part of July last, the authority of Congress in the restoration of the civil government was acknowledged:

WASHINGTON, July 24, 1865.

To W. L. Sharkey, Provisional Governor of Mississippi: Your telegram of the 13th instant has been received. The President sees no reason to interfere with Gen. Slocum's proceedings. The government of the States will be provisional only until the civil authorities shall be restored with the approval of Congress. In the meantime the military authorities cannot be withdrawn.

(Signed) WM. H. SEWARD.

The Secretary of the Treasury has appointed a new Commission to examine and report concerning a site for a new Mint at San Francisco, which consists of Collector Miller, the Superintendent of the Mint, and Albert Dibble, Esq.

The special mail service from Susanville, California, to Boise City, has been contracted for by L. T. Williamson, of San Francisco, at $20,000 per annum. The weekly mail from Boise City to Humboldt City, Nevada, by Albert P L Eckery, at $700,000. The San Jose Railroad Company will apply for land and bonds along their road, claiming it as a part of the Pacific Railroad, under assignment from the Central Pacific Railroad to the Western Pacific Railroad Company, ratified by the act of Congress last summer

CHICAGO, March 19th —The Hon Eli Thayer, formerly member of Congress from Massachusetts, is stumping Connecticut for the Democratic ticket In a speech at New Haven, he said it was the best government which let the people alone The constant intermeddling by Congress must be checked, and that the rights must be restored which Congress had trampled under foot. He said "If Mr. Johnson had been the President four years ago, it would have been better for the country, because he would have throttled Congress, which body had made all the trouble," and added "He (Thayer) has been called a Radical Republican whereas his fiercest political enemies were Radicals." Senators Sherman, Nye, and other leading members of Congress, have gone to Connecticut

GENERAL GRANT'S POSITION —Some unscrupulous partisans of the President go so far in their efforts to sustain the unsound position newly taken by that functionary, as to falsely allege that Gen Grant is of their way of thinking The President declares that matters are all quiet in the South, and rumors have been prevalent that he would so far usurp the powers vested in Congress by the Constitution, as to make public proclamation of peace. In a letter to the President dated December 18th, Gen Grant said

I did not meet any one, either those holding places under the Government or citizens of the Southern States, who think it practicable to withdraw the military from the South at present The white and the black mutually require the protection of the General Government. In some form the Freedmen's Bureau is an absolute necessity until civil law is established and enforced, securing to the freedmen their rights and protection.

Miscellaneous Items.

Among the various military organizations existing in the country at the breaking out of the rebellion, says the Boston Transcript few can show a nobler record than the New England Guard Battalion In April, 1861 the battalion numbered 174 men, more than one half of whom served as officers during the war Their rank was divided as follows Generals, 7, Colonels, 16, Lieutenant Colonels 5, Majors, 8, Captains, 32, Lieutenants, 22 Total, 90.

Donald McKay the distinguished ship builder of East Boston, has lately returned from Europe where he thoroughly inspected the iron navies of France and England He says that our Navy Department has constructed, built and equipped since 1861, an iron clad fleet more powerful than all the iron clad navies of the world combined and declares the Dunderberg built by Mr Webb in New York city, to be equal to all the French iron clads, of which we have heard so much praise

A letter from the City of Mexico, recently received by a gentleman in Columbus Mississippi, contains the following Gov Harris, of Tennessee, visited the city in the middle of December, to lay in as he said his supplies for Christmas He looks better than I ever saw him The same letter speaks of Shelby and Price in glowing terms, and adds "Gov Allen tells me that he has his newspaper, the Mexican Times, in good condition it overpays expenses and is increasing in patronage"

The Treasury Department, in reply to a resolution of the House, inquiring as to the amount of revenue received from the late rebellious States since the close of the war, has prepared a statement showing the amount received into the Treasury from the 1st of April, 1865, till the 1st of February, 1866, to have been nearly $28,000,000, most of which sum was realized from the sale of captured and abandoned property, and from the internal revenue on cotton

The Richmond Whig estimates that as many as $50,000 young men from the Southern States have settled themselves in New York City to secure their fortunes Many have gone to Baltimore, and we presume that there is scarcely a Northern city of any magnitude that does not number such representatives of the South among its population.

The sum of $16,000 has already been contributed, and a large portion of it paid into the Western Sanitary Commission, by the colored soldiers and freedmen of the United States, for the erection of a national monument at Washington to the memory of Mr Lincoln—a spontaneous offering of their gratitude to the great liberator of their race.

The American Bunting Company of Lowell, Mass, has just completed a flag for the use of the United States Senate This is the first flag ever made in this country from domestic material, and the Senators will no longer deliberate under the folds of a flag made from foreign fabrics.

FORT SUMTER NOW.—The Charleston correspondent of the Boston Traveler writes as follows of Fort Sumter:

In the center, in mid channel, like a grim sentinel, stands Fort Sumter, bowed, broken and desolate. A shapeless pile of earth and sand and brick, it bears no likeness to its former self Where the new cross of the Confederacy and the palmetto flag of South Carolina, and the division flag of General Ripley were so proudly flying in April and July of 1863, only one single banner, and that the red, white and blue, now waves

Scarred and cracked, its walls seem ready to fall The face toward Cumming's Point is crushed and broken into a steep hill of mingled sand and brick, and shot and shell The face toward Fort Moultrie and the channel is covered and protected by a solid work of interwoven palmetto logs. Yet the structure of the fort is scarred and cracked and broken above and around, and behind these additional defences. The casemates, closed and covered by immense frame work of heavy beams, and this again thick with earth, can be entered only by winding passages, damp and dripping with moisture. The casemates once entered, it would hardly seem possible that any human being could have lived any length of time within them. The guns were slimy and mouldy, and the carriages were sweating with an oily moisture. Climbing out of the stone port-hole and through the more widely expanded one in the palmetto logs, you could look down around the base of the fort, where the ceaseless tide had woven over each of the floods a mantle-like thick, green, wet floss, and see fragments of shell and broken bolts. You could look to the right and see where the wall had crumbled and fallen into the sea. You could look above and see the logs rent and gashed, and the brick wall with great scars and ragged cracks and wide seams, as though a little more of the storm of iron shot would have beat it down beneath the surface of the sea. You could look to the left and see the closed ports, the rough repairing, the broken parapet.

In the interior the sandy earth was supported in its irregularity by numberless fascines and gabions, and dotted here and there by dark holes which admitted us into the damp caverns What had been the parade was now green and slimy with the stagnant moisture, over which were scattered pieces of an exploded gun, scraps of iron hoops, a few decayed barrel-staves, iron and leaden shot scattered from shrapnel, and bits of soiled clothing and broken bayonets. From the tall flag-staff in the centre, a small Union banner was waving And this was all that remained of Fort Sumter! Over these and behind here were the guns which a handful of men were unable to withstand, but which woke a nation to the duty of complete and entire purification

LOUISIANA —The New York Tribune has the following:

Jasper Blackburn, who lives at Homer, Louisiana, and edits a journal of the classical name of the Homer Iliad, is a staunch loyalist, who does not hesitate to speak his mind freely in the one my's country. He says:

"It is true, simply true, that at present loyal men of the South, both white and black, are at the mercy of traitors at heart—traitors to good government, traitors to human liberty, and traitors to every instinct of common humanity * * * We boldly pronounce, for the information of whom it may concern, that within our knowledge there is but little heart loyalty in the South. * * * They would to day if they had the power, re-enslave the negro, put to death Union men, destroy the national Government, and trample under the foot of treason the last vestige of our former greatness and glory."

If all this be true of Louisiana, it is still more painfully true of every other Southern State; for Louisiana is the nearest pacified of all the way ward sisters. Are any of these States yet fit for re-entrance into Congress? No

ENTERPRISE IN COLORADO TERRITORY —There are four daily papers in Colorado Territory—two published in Denver and two more in the mountain regions

The section in which lumber is found in Colorado has 25 saw mills, and ten flour mills have been set up within the past few years. The quartz mills in the State are counted at over one hundred and fifty, costing $40,000,000. They should average, if all are running on medium ores, not less than $23,000,000 per year. Wages rule at five dollars per day. Mr. Loveland, a resident of Golden City, is soon to erect a blast furnace and rolling furnace at that point The mill is to turn out rails for the road that is to be constructed between Denver and the towns of Central and Empire, passing through Golden City, and probably furnishing one of the many links in the overland railway to the Pacific

MRS. LINCOLN'S SLANDERERS.—The New York correspondent of the Boston Journal writes

The slanders of Mrs Lincoln, originating with some of the press of the city are not new From the moment that she entered the white House as its mistress till she left it she has been the subject of open or covert attacks Early in the rule of Mr Lincoln a regular conspiracy was formed here, including two men and a woman, to strike her down and strike her husband through her A paid spy was kept in Washington with instructions to compromise Mrs Lincoln if it were possible He steadfastly pursued the purpose for which he was paid and sent bulletins regularly to his employers in New York detailing his success The vile plan became known to a gentleman of this city, who privately laid before Mr Lincoln the whole scheme It enabled him to lay his strong hand on the conspiracy and crush it I know this to be so for I saw the gentleman before he saw Mr Lincoln and after his return

SOUTH AMERICA —The Panama steamer brings later South American dates

The reported destruction of two Peruvian war vessels is confirmed

The blockading fleet at Valparaiso consisted of only two vessels, the rest having gone in search of Chilean and Peruvian vessels.

The Spaniards had received supplies by one English and one American vessel

The foreign Consuls at Valparaiso had had several meetings, and drawn up a protest against the Spanish commander's orders, prohibiting the exportation of coal from Chilean ports

A monetary crisis was impending in Lima and Callao The bank of La Providencia suddenly suspended payment, and monetary affairs were in a bad way generally

Ecuador had entered into an offensive and defensive alliance with Chile and Peru against Spain.

CENTRAL AMERICA —The steamer Golden Age to San Francisco brings Central American dates to March 1st

The Panama Herald says the engineer entrusted with the survey of the passage supposed to exist between the Ingua and the Atrato rivers with a view to opening an inter oceanic communication has returned from his expedition, and been quite successful

The line of steamers between Panama and Australia will commence running in June next

Three hundred persons—mostly Californians—left Panama February 11th for the New Granada mines

Panama has been considerably excited over the alleged fitting out of the steamer Uncle Sam as a supply ship for the Spanish fleet The vessel was recently sold by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company to J S Hermann & Co who landed her with provisions, etc Her application for clearance was denied Subsequently an armed force took possession of her, by order of the President of the State, but on the 24th of February she was released, at the instance of the United States Consul but placed under bonds not to leave her anchorage The owners entered a protest, and finally, on their giving a pledge that neither she nor her cargo should be sold to the Spanish, a clearance was granted and she was preparing to depart.

The vault in which the remains of Mr. Lincoln lie entombed at Springfield, was lately opened and the lid of the casket in which he sleeps raised His features were scarcely recognizable Their embalmment had failed to preserve them They were identified as those of the martyred President by a committee of the National Monument Association, that they might certify to the actual presence of the body in the casket, in pursuance of a resolution of the Directors. The sad ceremony ended, the lid was nailed down and sealed with the signet of the Association The door of the sepulchre was then closed and sealed with the same signet, to remain undisturbed till they are removed to the National Monument.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Weakness, the consequence of self-abuse This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, foted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
